

Company Profile | C&C Project Management

Residential Property Project Managers

Company Formation

C & C Project Management Pty Ltd (C&C) has 30 years of combined experience in project management.

With the rapid trend towards increased strata living in NSW in recent years, and with it an ageing stock of shared living properties requiring remedial, refurbishment and improvement works - C&C's founding directors identified a need by both Owners Corporations and their Strata Managers, for quality, independent project management expertise to assist with planning and managing such projects.

C&C recognise that unlike single owner properties, Strata Schemes have the relationship mix between Owners Corporations and Strata Managers that should be met with a service tailored specifically for this unique structure. C&C was formed to provide such a service, designed to let the consultants and contractors focus on the job at hand and the Owners & the Strata Managers can have confidence, knowing that the works and budget are both being closely managed under professional eyes.

Experience

Our extensive professional experience is broad based having worked in multiple industries and counties around the world.

Not only do we have solid on the ground experience, but the foundations of our capabilities are well supported by our extensive qualifications.

Our Managing Director, Kate and Technical Director, Nicholas are both qualified Project Managers with significant experience in managing projects throughout the UK, Australia and Dubai - varying from simple refurbishments right up to the largest shopping mall in the world! Kate has a Bachelor of Business, a Graduate Diploma of Project Management and is a 'Project Management Professional' (PMI), while Nicholas has a Bachelor of Building Construction Management, a Graduate Diploma of Applied Finance and Investment and an MBA.

Methodology

At C&C we believe the that the key to consistently delivering quality projects to our clients is the successful integration of all of the elements of a project - time, cost, quality, risk, communications, procurement, resources and scope.

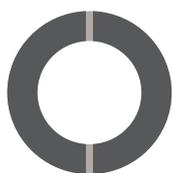

Superior Service

C&C have the skills and experience to manage the complete project lifecycle and will manage the works, to deliver best practice & precise results, keeping the project in "safe hands" to ensure that there are no surprises. We achieve this by listening to the client, proactive management, pre-planning and above all, strong communications.

C&C understands the constraints of the site, occupied premises, operational restrictions and resident sensitivities.

Our Network

We pride ourselves on the development of dedicated professional relationships with our clients, Strata Managers and an extensive local network of architects, licenced builders and other associated contractors. This enables us to offer our clients a dependable and consistent service, saving the client time and energy throughout the project – every time!
